TFL Today

Did Michael Continnelli know something mystical about the next couple of days when he demanded a recount on Monday night?

Unfortunately it doesn't quite work that way in football. When Antonio Freeman caught a ball off his shoulder, off his back, off his outstretched hand, and back into his arms, all while lying on the ground, giving the Packers the overtime win over the Vikings on Monday, he did two things.

He gave Anchorage one of the most miraculous victories the TFL has ever seen, a comeback win over Limerick in which Freeman and Ahman Green combined for 22 points, overtaking the Loons.

He also prevented Steve Katz from having a coronary.

Katz led Continnelli, 58-47, going into the game, and Continnelli had Vikings' running back Robert Smith. Inch by inch, yard by yard, Smith pushed Lackawanna closer to Baltimore, until he got his 125th rushing yard, equaling the necessary bonus points to tie Baltimore at 58. But on subsequent carries Smith was tackled for losses, subtracting precious yards and negating that one, even more precious bonus point.

This obviously wasn't the play, but Antonio Freeman did hang onto one very important pass Monday night, and it electrified the TFL.

Green Bay punted on its last possession of regulation, but the Vikings, needing to race downfield, went mostly to the air, denying Smith any carries. They were about to save Katz's life with a game-winning field goal, but botched that, sending things into OT. Katz's one reprieve was that the Packers got the ball first. But they had to convert a 3rd-and-17 play or else punt it back to Minnesota.

Enter Freeman. Katz still had a pulse, and the Barons and Kitchen both had won epic games. Both are 5-5; both in third place in their divisions. The playoff matrix is going to be the death of Katz, whose job is to sort it all. But getting there comes first.

In the non-miracle category, Flint used TDs by Moss and Carter to come back and beat Narcoossee, but that was settled early in the game.

(Editor's note: The TFL Today is not responsible for the fact that Sagan's game was just as electric as Katz's, but he wrote just one sentence in T-talk and nothing for this august publication.)
